ESD NEWS

***

ESD PhD alumni Don MacKenzie and Dave Keith and ESD PhD candidate Stephen Zoepf were recipients of the Barry D. McNutt Award at the recent Transportation Research Board annual meeting. They received the award for the paper “Charging Choices and Fuel Displacement in a Large-scale Plug-in Hybrid Electric Vehicle Demonstration.” The award cites “outstanding contributions to the development of efficient and effective federal policies related to the automotive sector.”

IN THE MEDIA

Op-ed by Don Rosenfield on manufacturing in the US
“Made in the US: Manufacturing moving onshore”

***

Coverage of recent MIT BLOSSOMS travel to China and Malaysia
“MIT BLOSSOMS fosters international partnerships in Malaysia and China”
MIT News – January 24, 2014

Also, article about visit to Verakin High School of Chongqing
“Lectures from MIT professor, encouraging high school students to play a leading role in classrooms”
Chongqing Business Daily, January 9, 2014 (posted on MIT BLOSSOMS website)
(Translated from Mandarin Chinese by Ling Wang, MIT BLOSSOMS China Liaison)

***

Coverage of recent SCALE Research Expo
“Talent is the future of supply chain management: At MIT’s Research Expo 2014, the future of supply chain was on display”
Modern Materials Handling - January 23, 2014

***
Sandy Pentland talks about data science and its applications
“How should we analyse our lives?”
Financial Times – January 17, 2014

Thomas Kochan quoted in story on Cape Wind
"U.S. Offshore Wind Farm, Made in Europe"

Seth Lloyd quoted in article on quantum energy
“Squeeze light to teleport quantum energy”
New Scientist - Online – January 24, 2014

EVENTS

Monday, January 27, 2014
SDM Systems Thinking Webinar Series
“Supply Chain and Risk Management: Making the Right Decisions to Strengthen Operations”
Ioannis Kyratzoglou, SDM ’11 - Principal Software Systems Engineer, MITRE Corporation
Time: 12-1pm

Wednesday, February 5, 2014
SDM Information Evening
Time: 6-9pm
Location: Boston Marriott Cambridge

###